The email verification code has been sent to n.fabry@bhaavic.ac.uk. To confirm that this address is valid please enter the code from the relevant email in the box below.

If this email is not in your inbox then there are three possible reasons for this:

- Your computer email filter settings or those maintained by your internet service provider may have diverted the message to a junk/spam mail folder. Please check this.
- Your internet service provider may be extremely busy, and therefore may not have been able to pass on our message. Please be patient and look again later.
- The email address recorded here as above may be incorrect. You can change the email address in the Personal details section of your application. If you do this you must click on 'save' to save the new details. You must then request that the verification code is reissued by clicking the relevant link below.

- add or pending address enquiries@ucas.ac.uk to your list of approved senders on your email system (this is usually done by adding it to your address list); and
- request that the verification code is reissued by clicking the relevant link below. An email will then be sent containing a new code.

If the code is not accepted please make sure that the email was sent after you requested a new code. If it was sent earlier, then the code will be invalid because you requested another verification code since that time. Make sure you use the code from the most recent email.

What I love about chemistry is the constant sense of discovery: looking at the simplest reactions on a molecular level is like glimpsing a whole new world. I am keen to learn at the cutting edge of current knowledge and to contribute to new discoveries.

During the course of my degree I hope to take part in some research; after leaving university I am looking to work in science, possibly in research, and some experience will almost certainly come in useful. I would also like to continue my study of French at university I think it is a beautiful language and one of my ambitions is to become fluent.

As part of my study, in addition to the A level course, I have taken part in the RSC Analytical Chemistry competition in a school team; I am a regular subscriber to the New Scientist magazine and have attended several courses, including an ISCO course on Forensic Science. I am also an affiliate of the RSC, and I'm currently looking for work experience possibilities in this field.

I joined Dorothy Stringer School on a scholarship and during my time here I've won seven prizes in total, including two for French and Maths; I am now looking forward to the challenges presented by my appointment as one of fifteen Gown Prefects in the school. However, as well as taking my work and responsibilities seriously I have a lot of fun as well. I sing in the school choir and the chamber choir, and currently take singing lessons: I hope to continue with my singing at university, ideally in a university or college choir. I have represented both my House and School in General Knowledge teams and, although not exactly a gifted sportswoman, I'm happy to take part in some sport for my House.

I enjoy taking part and trying new sports and although my talents aren't likely to take me into the university teams, I look forward to continuing to 'have a go'! I have also taken part in numerous musicals and plays in the school. In January I joined the Dorothy Stringer Amnesty International Group and have been involved regularly since then. As a member of the school's Community Service Unit I spent a year working in a primary school, and another in a school for handicapped children, both on Thursday afternoons during term-time.

I believe that my academic ability and dedication to my subject make me an ideal candidate to study chemistry at university. I look forward to taking advantage of all the opportunities that will be open to me as a student, both in work and leisure time.
