

HEAD OF COMPUTER SCIENCE AND IT

Permanent and Full Time

Required to start 1 September 2024

We are one of the top-performing colleges in the country, situated in the cosmopolitan seaside city of Brighton & Hove. Working here offers the combination of both a wonderful place to work and a great city in which to live. Our students and staff are colourful, aspirational and hard-working – which is perhaps why 96% of employees would “recommend BHASVIC as a good place to work” and many of our students go on to Higher Education.

We are seeking to appoint to the post of Head of Computer Science and IT. This is an excellent opportunity for someone to lead and manage an exciting, vibrant and diverse team of staff and students. The CompSciIT team has forged an outstanding reputation and it is recognised nationally for its progressive approaches to teaching and its excellent student outcomes. We are looking, therefore, to appoint a highly organised and collaborative leader who can consolidate and successfully build on this provision. The Head of CompSciIT works closely with sixteen other Heads of Department, contributing to the broader strategic and operational business of the college. Regular one-to-one meetings are held with Head of Faculty Tim Chamberlain, and there are opportunities to participate in numerous cross-college initiatives such as BITESIZE staff development sessions and the BHASVIC Educational Research Group [BERG]. In short, the Head of Department is a vital and exciting role within the college management structure.

The Computer Science & IT Department

Computer Science & IT is a well-established and popular department. Around 230 students study Computer Science A level (OCR) each year, and we also currently offer BTEC National Extended Certificates in Computing (Games, Apps & Encryption) and IT (Digital Marketing & Web Design) as well as a range of non-examined portfolio courses to broaden and enrich the student experience.

The department benefits from specialist accommodation comprising of three specialist teaching rooms, each part of a network which is segmented from the main College system, allowing students more freedom with access rights and filtering to ensure they can install and run a range of programming environments, such as the JetBrains suite, Unity and Visual Studio. Alongside two of these classrooms are small ‘geekpods’ each with a few computers where students can work independently outside of the classroom. We also have a BTEC lab which is a room with a simple client-server setup that students use to explore cybersecurity and implement measures to protect a system.

We have exceptionally high standards for our students and aim to develop highly motivating relationships with them in a stimulating and varied learning environment. We look to exploit diverse strategies, inside and outside the classroom, so that students achieve above our expectations while receiving the broadest and best preparation for life beyond BHASVIC. We have been particularly active in recent years to promote strong relationships employers and in offering a variety of residential and non-residential enrichment opportunities.

As a small team of five, we work closely to plan teaching strategies across the department and to share and develop resources. We create a community atmosphere amongst our students and in our classrooms, and encourage our students to seek advice and support from any member of the team. The HoD will also need to liaise closely with the Network Manager to support the maintenance of the specialist rooms and network setup.
